V2XA2: The past, present and the future
V2X - A2

- A Year in Review
- What’s to Come
- My Family Vacation
Deployment Area
is home to:
Schools, Shops, Services =
Lots of Local Driving
Partnerships and participants

$12,000 donated to AAPS and Mott’s
V2X-A2 Goes Viral
Program Expansion
From Ann Arbor and beyond

Michigan Mobility Transformation Center (MTC)
Expand current participant base
Expand current deployment beyond Ann Arbor Partnerships
Mlive: U-M is turning Ann Arbor into the world's largest lab for wireless vehicle communication

By Kellie Woodhouse | kelliewoodhouse@mlive.com
Follow on Twitter
on April 17, 2014 at 5:30 AM, updated April 17, 2014 at 1:12 PM

The University of Michigan is aiming to turn the entirety of Ann Arbor into a laboratory. The city's drivers will become lab rats, and each errand or trip to work will become part of a very large experiment. U-M's Transportation Research Institute and the federal and state transportation departments have plans to equip 9,000 cars with wireless communication technology....
Connected Technology: A Systems Approach

Affordable
Innovative Possibilities
Systems approach
A Connected Disney World

Most Visited Attraction in the World

50 million visitors every year

100,000 guests every day
A Connected Disney World
College of Engineering
Medical School
College of Architecture and Urban Planning
School of Public Policy
Law School
School of Business
UMTRI
School of Information
UM Energy Institute
Other UM Schools...
Education, information, awareness
Like Us! Follow us!
ITS World Congress

Functional Demonstrations for participants

Technical Tour of deployment area

Opening of Michigan Mobility Test Facility
The Future...